5. South Coast Regional Early Learning Hub (SCREL)	Heather Baumer gave an overview of the inception of the early learning hubs and their mission of: Supporting children and families as they learn and grow through quality opportunities and community partnerships. The South Coast Regional Early Learning (SCREL) Hub promotes the alignment of programs and resources for children 0-6 from Reedsport to Brookings. Our vision is a community in which: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Every child enters kindergarten ready to learn; • Every family has the resources and tools they need to create healthy and stable environments for their children; • And services and programs work together to provide what children and families most need. The early learning hub system was put into place by the Early Learning Division of the Oregon Department of Education. We are one of 16 early learning hubs across the state, each of which is a collection of programs and service providers who believe in working together. We draw from 5 sectors to better serve children and families: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • K-12 Schools • Early Learning • Health Care • Human Services • Business Tribal representation and parent voice plays a critical role in the overall work as a hub community.

	Together we hold ourselves accountable for better understanding our community needs and collaborating efficiently and effectively to meet them. The first six years of life are the most important in determining how children see themselves, how they approach learning, and what kind of success they will reach in school and beyond. Young children are learning and developing at a more rapid pace than at any other time in their lives. It is our responsibility as a community to ensure that the experiences a child has during these years create a strong foundation for future success. The more we invest in children, the greater the pay-off will be down the road, with stronger readers in third grade, more high school graduates, more college-ready students, and a skilled workforce. We can strengthen the prosperity of our region by investing in our youngest children and their families. If, working together as a community, we can make a change in those first six years for children, through quality care and learning opportunities, we can change those children's lives. For more information: South Coast Regional Early Learning (SCREL) Hub 541.435.7751 screl@orcca.us screlhub.com www.facebook.com/SCRELhub Our local hub serves from Reedsport down to Brookings-with ORCCA serving as their fiscal, legal and HR backbone. SCREL is an initiative for the region with 3 overarching goals: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Coordinated and aligned systems - Kindergarten preparedness for children and families - Healthy, stable and attached families - There are 16 early hubs cross the state, each of which is a collection of programs and service providers who believe in working together. They draw from 5 sectors to better serve children and families. Mellanie Caldera noted the role of Oasis Shelter in being

	invited to partner with SCREL in speaking on the subject of healthy relationships and abuse prevention. Powers School District has no preschool services of their own, so SCREL has gone in to provide this service there, and they also support the Ready-Set learning program in Port Orford to aid in kindergarten preparedness. SCREL has also provided funding locally to the 4-H program in childcare training- CPR/First Aid and a junior high babysitters program to help train 'home grown' childcare providers for the future. Funded through Ford Family Foundation grants: P-3 Coordinators (a new one has been hired in Curry County) as well as a home visitors program.
6. Health Hack	Amanda McCarthy from Advanced Health gave a presentation on Health Hack: Health Hack, presented by FamilyCare Health, is a series of programs and resources for youth and young adults (ages 15-25). The resources and activities include tips (called hacks) that break down health and wellness, insurance and self-advocacy in a way that is easy to understand. Schools, health partners and other youth-serving organizations may use the curriculum as is or tailor it as needed. Organizations may co-brand materials, but please keep the Health Hack logo. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Introduction to Health Hack (webinar recording) • Overview (one-page handout) • Full curriculum, including train-the-trainer and participant materials (.zip files) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Video - Taking Care of Yourself (.zip file) ○ Videos - Public versus Private Insurance / Visiting Your Doctor How-to Guide (.zip files) • Health Hack adaptation for community colleges and universities (.zip file) Amanda is seeking the CAC's input as to where the best places would be to implement this program in Curry County.

	Alice Taylor questioned why this program is only targeted toward youth when it's so needed for all ages. Amanda noted that the program is meant to help prepare youth to be informed adults but that yes, Alice is correct and that we need this training for all ages. Amanda showed a video, as an example of what is shown through this curriculum, that gives a great overview of our healthcare system/CCOs, etc. Kristen Davis noted that the BHHS YAK would be a great place to implement this program. Other recommendations- Margie House- OSU Extension office and 4-H, Gold Beach Library and CASA program.
